Story

Yukina and Shigure's love missions began as research for a novel. But after the date mission, Yukina chose Akira as her boyfriend, and before she could work things out with Shigure, he went off on summer vacation. Now Yukina can't get Shigure out of her mind—she is confused by her own heart and unable to write her novel. To make matters worse, she hears that Akira and Mami have started dating?! In her pain, Yukina goes with Hisame to Shigure's summer retreat.

Characters

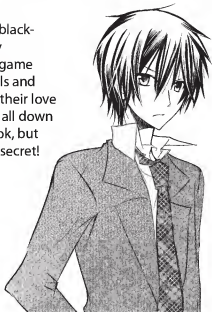

Yukina Himuro

A third-year junior high student who strikes terror in the hearts of all around her with her piercing gaze, feared as the "Absolute Zero Snow Woman." Only Akira knows that she is also the popular cell phone novelist Yupina.

Shigure Kitami

The ever-popular, yet black-hearted, student body president. He made a game of charming all the girls and making them confess their love to him, then writing it all down in his student notebook, but Yukina discovered his secret!

Akira Shimotsuki

Yukina's cousin and fellow student. He loves to eat. He is always nearby watching over her, but he wants Yukina to see him as a man, so he changes his look!

Mami Mizuno

A childhood friend of Shigure's. A sickly girl. The teachers love her, and she's very popular with the boys. She's a beautiful young girl who always wears a smile, but deep down, her heart is black. She recently outgrew her long-held crush on Shigure.

Hisame Kitami

Shigure's brother, one year his junior. He normally attends a boarding school, but is now home for summer vacation. He harbors a twisted affection for Mami.

Translation notes

Don't slam the door on me, page 8

The translators admit to taking a bit of a liberty here. Originally, Hisame calls Shigure "kuso aniki" which translates roughly to "crap big bro." Because that doesn't sound entirely natural, the translators considered what siblings do tend to call each other in English, and came up with what the reader sees on the page.

Hideyo Noguchi, page 62

Hideyo Noguchi was a prominent Japanese bacteriologist, who lived from 1876 to 1928. He made some important medical discoveries, so naturally, as a future doctor, Shigure would be studying him and his works.

White Team, page 78

I look like a little kid, page 132

More specifically, Hisame remarks that he looks like someone at Shichi-Go-San. Meaning "seven-five-three," Shichi-Go-San is a Japanese festival that celebrates children, specifically three- and seven-year-old girls, and three- and five-year-old boys. Parents dress their children in more formal attire and they visit shrines. In other words, Hisame thinks the suit makes him look like a three- or five-year-old boy.

The Heart-Pounding Romance!

Next Mission!

Shigure and Yukina's hearts have been connected. She has learned what love is, and her feelings toward her novel grow even stronger.

Their feelings can't be stopped now!!

And there is a certain change in Akira and Mami's relationship?

And a heartbroken Hisame resorts to....

Five loves go on to the next mission!!
